FOREWORD

The people are hospitable, progressive and so eager to share their essence and their history with you. Words such as adventure, thrill and culture come to mind when you think of this hilly land whose high altitude has given us world champions such as Moses Kiprotich and Joshua Cheptegei.

In the last few decades, Eastern Uganda has been transformed into a tourist haven. With natural attractions such as the source of the Nile, Sipi Falls, Nyero Rock Paintings and caves and Mt Elgon the hikers' paradise there is so much to explore and experience. Small farmers have opened up their farms and homes to tourists, while investors have put up state-of-the-art facilities. To me, this signals great progress in taking down the barriers between the surrounding community and the traveler. It is a land bursting with unique culture and a variety of traditions. This is the land of the Imbalu initiation ceremony and the Kadodi dance. Your taste buds will also be treated to local culinary delights such as mboli (potatoes), kamalewa, maido (ground nuts) and coffee from Masaba land. The people are hospitable, progressive and so eager to share their essence and their history with you. Words such as adventure, thrill and culture come to mind when you think of this hilly land whose high altitude has given us world champions such as Moses Kiprotich and Joshua Cheptegei. The luxury traveler is spoiled for choice for locations to visit, experiences to be had while the budget traveler has quality guest houses and campsites to choose from. The thrill seeker too, will not be able to exhaust the offers on hand. It has also been noticed that where resorts once kept guests within the confines of its walls, today, hotels encourage guests to go out and explore local culture while also inviting residents to come enjoy on-site restaurants, bars, and coffee shops. Hotels have also recognized that home-sharing services are here to stay and are taking cues from what they do well. It's a more open-minded take on the best of classic hospitality. When done right, it's good for the traveler and it's good for the travel business. I commend and recommend this trend.

COVID 19 SOPS HOW WE ARE EMBRACING THE NEW NORMAL AS A COUNTRY

GENERAL HEALTH AND SAFETY PROTOCOLS

The following measures that have been communicated by the Ministry of Health, Local Health Authorities and World Health Organization should be strictly adhered to all times:

Social distancing measures together with frequent hand hygiene and respiratory etiquette are the main measures to prevent transmission of COVID-19.

Although it is probable that guests are already familiar with these measures, they should be reminded as a form of hospitality.

Social Distancing

Social distancing includes refraining from hugging & shaking hands with guests as well as among fellow staff. It involves maintaining a distance of at least 2m (6 ft) and avoiding anyone who is coughing, sneezing or talking without a mask.

Hand Washing

Hand hygiene means regularly and thoroughly cleaning hands with an alcohol-based hand rub or washing them with soap and water.

Also avoid touching eyes, nose, and mouth. Hand disinfection is indicated after exchanging objects (money, credit cards) with guests.

Respiratory Hygiene

Respiratory etiquette means covering mouth and nose with bent elbow or tissue when coughing or sneezing. The used tissue should be disposed of immediately in a bin with a lid. Ensure that face masks are worn at all times while with guests.

Disinfection

All indoor areas such as entrance lobbies, corridors and staircases, escalators, elevators, security guard booths, office rooms, meeting rooms, cafeteria should be mopped with a disinfectant (1% sodium hypochlorite or phenolic disinfectants).

For metallic surfaces like door handles, security locks, keys etc. 70% alcohol based sanitizer can be used to wipe down surfaces where the use of bleach is not suitable.

Health and Safety Communication

Communication should be maintained between Management and staff in charge of the different departments in order to pre-define an information policy for guests as well as to rapidly provide and obtain information on incidents that may arise in the establishment and to know the status of the situation at all times.

Providing guidelines to the staff on how they should communicate the action plan to guests and other stakeholders can ensure alignment consistency.

Short documents or informative posters can amplify the key messages among guests and staff, including:

- a) Promoting of hand washing
  - b) Respiratory hygiene
  - c) Basic hygiene practices
  - d) Coughing etiquette
  - e) Contact information of key staff personnel
  - f) Emergency Telephone number
- Official leaflets on basic hygiene practice and COVID-19, in different languages, could be useful information tools.

It is useful to have an up-to-date list of the contact information of the staff, including emergency telephone numbers.

INTRODUCTION

The Mystical East

The east is a place you go to when you want to experience adventure, adrenaline and thrill. From the majestic mountains to the roaring waterfalls, the east is pulsating with incredible energy. There is also an inexplicable mystical vibe here. It could be the effect of all those majestic mountains or the roaring waterfalls or the gentle streams, the caves and rocks that force the mind to acknowledge the possibility of a greater power that reigns over the universe. Although this mystical scenery is often encroached on by progress; power lines, factories, bridges and roads it puts up a spirited fight and preserves itself. In the east, you will find several strands of religion and history happily nestling with each other. The people are as entrenched into their traditions as they are to their religions making the blend seamless and elegant. It is a place proud of its history and focused on its future.

THE WISE MEN AND WOMEN FROM THE EAST

WHAT IS SO SPECIAL ABOUT THESE PEOPLE?

The people from eastern Uganda proudly refer to themselves as the wisemen. While the reference might have been borrowed from the Biblical magi that paid homage to Jesus in a manger, these people truly aspire to live up to it. They are a progressive and hardworking group known for their honesty and integrity. Because of their proximity to the border and their warm and hospitable nature, the land is filled with various tribes that speak several languages. In addition to their mother tongues such as Ateso, Lusoga, Lugisu, Sabiny, Kumam they also speak Swahili, English and Luganda. They are agriculturists but also engage in pastoralism in some pockets of the region. This is the home of the famed musical instrument akogo, local brew ajono and kadodi the dance performed during the imbalu ceremony. The east is known for being the home of Uganda's most celebrated athletes such as Joshua Cheptegei, Moses Kipsiro and Olympic champion Stephen Kiprotich.

Pallisa District and Kumi District lie to the northwest of Mbale District. Mbale, the largest town in the district and the location of the district headquarters, is located approximately 245 kilometres northeast of Kampala, the capital of Uganda, and the largest city in that country.*

The allure of Mbale is its uniqueness; the multiplicity of its population, the culture and the booming commerce. Once proudly known as the cleanest town in Uganda, Mbale was recently elevated to a city. The old architecture neatly laid out in spacious streets now coexists with new developments making it bigger and better. Mbale is a friendly bustling city and its people are accommodating and obliging. There are endless attractions to keep tourists occupied for weeks. Apart from the natural tourist sites there is also a booming agriculture sector especially the coffee demonstration farms, the culture and religion. Just a short drive away from the city Centre is the compound where every even year, thousands of boys undergo the Imbalu a cultural circumcision that ushers boys into manhood. The ceremonial hut itself is surrounded by an unmistakable reverence. Adjacent to it is the district administration block which houses the statue of Mwambu proudly showing off his circumcised manhood. The Imbalu is one of the most revered ceremonies and a tradition that forges a strong bond among the Bamasaba. Also, one cannot help but notice the peaceful coexistence of mosques and churches. However, Mbale is famous for being the home of a Jewish community that has been around for 500 years. Founded by the administrator Semei Kakungulu, the sect leads a separate and quiet life on the outskirts of the city.

Bugisu Co-operative Union

The Bugisu Co-operative Union is a Ugandan agricultural cooperative federation, established in July 1954. It was started by a group of coffee farmers who are organized in primary societies. The Bugisu region grows Arabica coffee on the volcanic soils and Bugisu Co-operative Union is the main Coffee processing plant.

Abayudaya Community

The community is located in Gangama, Namanyonyi Sub county. Bayudaya (Jews) community is a group of Jewish believers that practice Jewish practices and beliefs. The religion was introduced in Mbale around 1919 by Semei Kakungulu who was also their first leader. Even though they were perecuted in the past years during Idi Amin regime they still remained strong in their faith.

They are known for spreading peace and hard work through the various projects not just for the Bayudaya community alone but also shared with others. It has about 1000 members spread in Mbale region.

Wanale Hill

Wanale Hill can be seen from different directions as one is approaching Mbale City. The hill is estimated to be 6864 ft above sea level. Wanale has beautiful water falls which give the hill a white appearance from a far, this made Semei Kakungulu name the ridge, Nkokonjeru meaning white cock. Hiking this hill is physically demanding and also adventurous due to the various caves, deep valleys, rocks.

For bookings one has go through the UWA offices in Mbale. Website: www.ugandawildlife.org

The district is majorly agricultural with most families engaged in subsistence farming. Occasionally, you will spot a paddock with cows gently grazing. It is the latter economic activity that is infusing this otherwise tranquil place with a new energy. Watching bulls fight in Bududa requires an enormous amount of determination and interest but the reward is great. The first hurdle to jump is the timing. According to the locals, the fights happen very early in the morning or late in the evening. There is no specific time but if you are determined enough you can work around that schedule. The second one is locating the place at which the activity is taking place. Depending on who you ask, bull fights happen every Saturday or every other Saturday at different fields. Reaching these particular venues is an adventure itself, you will pass through steep hillsides below which muddy streams lazily flow. The bulls are marched according to age and size. Then bets are placed on the most likely winners which makes the sport very exciting for the invested spectators. The sport itself is very entertaining and somewhat therapeutic.

CULTURAL TOURISM

Kyabazinga palace

To learn about the Busoga culture, visit the Kyabazinga Palace and Mpumudde Hill. Mpumudde Hill, is where the cultural leaders were crowned. It is also widely regarded by historians as the site where Omukama (king) Kabalega of Bunyoro died in 1923. Located approximately four kilometres from Jinja City, the hill overlooks Lake Victoria, Bugembe Cathedral and the Kyabazinga's palace atop Igenge Hill.

Inzu Ya Masaaba

The official administrative seat is located a few kilometers from the city center. Currently under the leadership of Umukuuka III Wagabyalire Amram John, the institution dates back to the times of Mwambu and Sera the ancestors of the Bamasaba.

Umukuuka III Wagabyalire Amram John and other officials at the Inzu Ya Bamasaba in Mbale.

Nabamba shrine

Visit Nabamba Shrine to learn about the traditional beliefs from Busoga region. The shrine is believed to be inhabited by powerful spirits that influence people's lives. As such people visit to pray for healing and blessings and offer thanksgiving.

Emutoto

Emutoto just on the outskirts of Mbale City is the official compound of Imbalu. Imbalu is one of the most revered Bamasaba culture. Carried out every even year, thousands of eager boys gather at this compound to be circumcised as an initiation rite of transition from boyhood to manhood.

The Stern synagogue

However, Mbale is famous for being the home of a Jewish community that has been around for 500 years. Founded by the administrator Semei Kakungulu, the sect leads a separate and quiet life on the outskirts of the city.

Agro-tourism

While in Kapchorwa, visit with the Sipi Falls Arabic coffee farmers who are available to demonstrate the coffee journey from the garden to the cup. They also offer special tours for students and other people interested in learning the art of growing and making money from coffee.

In Bugiri, tour the Kibimba rice scheme. Recognised as one of Uganda's best local rice producers, the Kibimba rice estate covers 5,000 hectares and its business capabilities, all of which are run in-house and on-site, include growing paddy, multi-stage milling, packaging and distribution.

For tea, visit the Uganda Tea Corporation Limited (UTCL) at Kasaku near Lugazi. UTCL has been a leading tea producer and exporter in Uganda for over 20 years. It has three estates with its headquarters in Kasaku which is about 48 Km from Kampala and 40 Km from Jinja.

Sugar cane

Uganda is the largest producer of granular brown sugar in the East African Community, accounting for about 500,000 metric tonnes annually as of May 2017. The east is the largest grower of sugarcane in Uganda. Visit Kakira Sugar in the district of Jinja.

Adrenaline adventure

If you are looking for thrilling adventure, go for white water rafting on the Nile River. After a comprehensive briefing about the activity, you are free to enjoy a beautiful scenery, birds and the thundering rapids of the White Nile. Go rafting at the Itanda Falls, a steep cascade roaring waterfall on the majestic River Nile the longest river in the world, the water is estimated at 100 meters deep. For experienced kayakers and the daring novices, this is an unmissable experience. In Tororo Town go rock climbing. The Tororo rock is climbable in an hour on an elevation of 1,483 meters and it does not require a skill.

Hike up Wanale Hill for the best views of Mbale City.

In Kapchorwa go for a hike to the amazing Sipi Falls. Sipi Falls is a series of three water falls plunging along the lower slopes of Mt.Elgon. Visit Mount. Elgon

National Park and do a hike of Mt. Elgon. Known as a mountain of illusion, Elgon has several peaks the highest of which Wagagai at an elevation of 4,321 meters.

A full day walk will lead you to Budadiri and Budange cliffs known as the walls of death at the boundary of the park located in tropical forests.

There are high chances of encountering blue monkeys, black and white Colobus monkeys and baboons.

Travel to Pian Upe Wildlife Reserve. Spread on 2,788sq kilometers semi-arid land north of Mt Elgon, Pian Upe is one of Uganda's best kept secrets. Being under the care of Uganda Wildlife Authority, all activities have to be guided by UWA ranger guides. It is a true African wilderness with a few people but with rich wildlife.

Morning and afternoon game drives around Pian Upe wild life reserve where you will spot cheetahs, ostriches, antelopes, giraffes, roan antelopes, maneless zebra, elands and birds.

Dolwe Island (Jewel of Lake Victoria)

Dolwe Island Uganda's (and Lake Victoria's) best kept secrets situated in the North Eastern part of Lake Victoria (Busoga region) and hidden away inside these natural castles are messages and symbols from the past in the form of rock paintings, carvings and engravings and also gongs ("rock gongs"), left behind by unknown people's long ago (probably the biggest known concentration of gongs on this continent), opening windows onto Dolwe's mysterious and enigmatic past. The Dolwe is one of, a beautiful island about 25 sq Kms, situated in Ugandan waters not far from the Kenyan border. It is characterized by the many granite rocks and boulders which rise like castles across the landscape, carved hollows, grinding hollows, decorated pottery sherds, decorated pottery sherds, stone age demarcation lines and grids, stone age demarcation lines and grids.

The site has various cultural products including rock paintings and engraving, rock gongs, ground hollows, stone stools and pottery. It is possible that Dolwe hunters-gatherers and agriculturalists perceived this island's landscape as enshrining knowledge of what happened in the past and recorded in the rock art. There is also another mysterious and remarkable artistic heritage from the past in the form of what archaeologists call ground (carved) depressions/hollows in the granite which abound here in their thousands. The island is much too remote for most tourists to reach by vehicle and boat which takes a long time and can entail rough crossings. Much of the island is still wild and undeveloped and therefore beautiful. There are no vehicles and it is important that the government make a rule for everybody not to introduce vehicles here which would ruin its exclusive nature.

UGANDA'S LARGEST WILDLIFE RESERVE

Pian Upe Wildlife Reserve

By Jonathan A. Benaiah

Pian Upe Wildlife reserve is located in the northeastern semi-arid part of Uganda, spanning a land area of 2043 sqkm. It is undisputedly the largest wildlife reserve in the country and the second largest protected area in Uganda, after the Murchison Falls National Park, also one of the most picturesque points in the country.

Pian Upe's History

Until a few years ago, the area where the reserve sits was a famous battleground for two traditional pastoral groups, the Karamajongs of northeastern Uganda and the Pokot who originated from Kenya. The main road which leads through the reserve right up into Matheniko & Bokora Wildlife Reserve and into Kidepo Valley National Park formed the boundary which both tribes crisscrossed to raid one another, in a period of ruthless cattle rustling. Peace has however since returned to this region, and tourism continues to flourish.

In 2003, there was a proposal to degazette the reserve for fruit farming but this was blocked. The Government of Uganda, fortunately, has recently expressed interest in upgrading Pian Upe Game Reserve to National Park status, and efforts to restock wildlife numbers are in the process, as well as plans to open up more areas for tourism development.

Highlights of Pian Upe Wildlife Reserve; Attractions and Activities for visitors

Pian Upe Wildlife Reserve is popular for its signature dazzling sunsets and sunrises, which you won't help but breathe in when you visit. Every morning, the sun comes out from its resting spot behind the mountains and descends over the horizon.

Flora:

This area of northeastern Uganda is without doubt one of the remotest, but also one of the most charming expanses of distinct wildlands in the country, dominated by plateaus carpeted by green and golden undisturbed and wooded savannah plains ringed by mountains and cut in-between by rock-strewn ridges and Kopjes.

The reserve's plains are dominated by thatching grass, but they also feature bristle species, lemon grasses, and beard grasses. The sweeping plains are decorated with red acacia, desert date, bush willows and shrubs like the wooly caper bush and the butterfly pea.

Fauna:

Pian Upe Wildlife Reserve is most notable for harboring quite a number of rare animals found nowhere else in Uganda, including a healthy population of Cheetahs and Uganda's only remaining population of Roan Antelopes.

The low visitor numbers guarantee that all wildlife sightings are private, intimate and personal; dissimilar from the crowds that characterize Africa's popular wildlife destinations.

The reserve is also home to large herds of ungulates including the Common Eland, a small population of Zebra, Hartebeests, Günther's Dik Dik, the popular Oribis, and the impalas which were recently relocated here from Lake Mburo National Park. Cape Buffalo, the Uganda Kob, Waterbuck, Blue and Common Duiker, Klipspringers and the Bohor and Mountain Reedbuck also enjoy the homely Pian Upe Game Reserve. The African Hare, Crested Porcupine, Rock Hyrax, Aardvarks, Vervet and Patas Monkeys, Four-toed HedgeHogs, as well as the Olive Baboons can be found here. Cheetah sightings are ranked at 80% chances, making it the best place in the country to see earth's fastest mammal. But popular among the other predators in the reserve include the jackals, wildcats, Spotted Hyenas, Serval Cats, Civets, the elusive Leopards and a healthy pride of Lions is reported to periodically visit from the nearby Amudat Wildlife Conservation Area. The reserve is also home to varied species of reptiles including venomous puff adders, savannah monitors, common agama, chameleons, geckos, skinks, rock pythons and crocodiles can be found in River Girik. Lions, elephants, black rhinos and giraffes once roamed these open plains, but they were hunted into extinction during the era of insurgencies. Uganda Wildlife Authority, however, has plans of reintroducing some of these species into this outsized wilderness.

Birding in Pian Upe Wildlife Reserve

Pian Upe's ecosystems attract unique bird species which make her an endeared birding hotspot on the Uganda safari itinerary. Birds to look out for include the Karamoja apalis, which is endemic to northeastern Uganda. Ostriches (both wild and domesticated) are not hard to find here. Green bitta, Abyssinian ground hornbills, superb sterlings, secretary birds, even the shoebill can be sighted on the park's stretch of land. The reserve's boundary is broken by the extension of Lake Opeta, one in two places in Uganda and the entire world where the Fox's Weaver bird survives and can be sighted.

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

Eastern Uganda is best visited during the drier months of June to August and December to February, when it is easiest to go mountain climbing and the wildlife viewing in the reserves. You do not need to book in advance to access most attractions. Market share of petroleum products marketing companies in Uganda, these are some of the companies you will get to fuel your transport means while touring the South western Part of Uganda. RANK OIL COMPANY PERCENTAGE 1 Vivo Energy 22.7 2 Total M&S Uganda 19.6 3 Oryx, Kobil and Mogas 9.0 4 Independent oil marketers 49.0 Uganda Tourism Police Force Unit; This has well over 1000 fully trained personnel aiding in protecting of tourists and visitors to Uganda. Thus, both local and international Tourists. They are found at most Tourist sites including hotels and lodges.

Using public transportation

There are taxis, buses like YY Coaches, Teso Coach, Kakise Coach, Gateway Buses, Hopper Coaches to mention but a few and boda bodas driving on fixed routes, mainly through the cities and from their centers to the suburbs. Nationwide they are distinguished by their blue chequered markings. It is not that easy to tell which taxi goes where, so it is best always to ask. All Ugandans are really friendly and they will help you. You can flag them down everywhere and you can get off everywhere. The payment is done after the ride and the amount depends on the distance. Always carry enough small change with you. Advice: When you first use a taxi, take somebody with you who knows how it works. After this test you will see how easy it is. If you do not want to share your ride with other passengers, you can get a special hire or get a boda boda. Boda bodas are either as motorbikes or bicycles. That means that you are the pillion rider. The boda bodas are used for the destinations off the main roads, instead of walking home some kilometers from where the taxi stops. You reach your target by boda boda quickly, while all others have to wait in the traffic jam. Boda bodas are very cheap. For a distance of some few kilometers you pay only 50 cent. However, their use is not without hazard in the bustle of the streets. Because there is no helmet you could use, and you cannot be sure if the driver knows anything about “safe driving”. A “special hire” in Uganda is what is called a taxi in Europe: A standard vehicle for 4 persons + driver, who drives you wherever you want. This works very well, and the drivers are friendly, helpful and they know their way around. The fee does not depend on the distance or the duration, but it’s negotiated before you start. Of course, as a tourist you always pay a little bit more than a Ugandan. But nevertheless, you can drive through whole Kampala for not more than 5 Euro - some insider tips from the driver inclusive, and sometimes air conditioned!

Travelling by bus in Uganda

All cities in Uganda are linked by bus. The bigger coaches are preferable compared to the smaller shared taxis regarding security and comfort. Especially recommended are the post coaches, for which you can obtain tickets at every post office. Departure is normally at the post office as well. To travel by bus is in general cheap. On average you pay 1-2 Euros per 100 km. It is best to buy your ticket the day before departure. There are also international connections, for example to Nairobi (Kenia) or Kigali (Ruanda). Details, addresses and fares you can establish through known travel guides for Uganda or locally.

Shopping in eastern Uganda

In the capital Kampala you actually can get everything what you are used to at home. There are a few western style shopping centers (e.g. Garden City Shopping Mall, Quality Hill Shopping Mall, Shoprite Checkers). There are big shopping malls in other cities as well. Recommended are the countless small local supermarkets, where you can purchase regional products at cheaper prices. You will find these shops in a lot of towns. Tempting is also the numerous streets stands of local people offering fruits, herbs, nuts and the huge choice and freshness especially of the tropical fruits beats every supermarket at home! Pineapples, bananas, mangos, papayas, oranges and a lot more you can get here in excellent quality for a few cents. Be careful with meat and fish, because the hygienic standards often leave a lot to be desired.

HEALTH SERVICES

1. Masaba Wing Hospital is located in Mbale City.
2. Jinja Regional Referral Hospital, commonly known as Jinja Hospital, is a hospital in the city of Jinja, in the Eastern Region of Uganda. It is the largest hospital in eastern Uganda, with a bed capacity of 600, although many more patients are admitted.
