CELEBRATING 20 YEARS

20 YEARS
ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Twenty years! Wow, it gives me great pleasure to write the foreword for the 20-year edition of the Uganda Hotel Owners' Association (UHOA) publication.

In May 2000, with no resources and only a dream, Dr B.M Kibirige, the UHOA founding father gathered nine hoteliers and together started they what is now known as the UHOA. Through many highs and lows, UHOA is now one of the most prominent associations in the country as well as the biggest and most powerful private sector association in Uganda's tourism industry.

With over 520 members spread across the country, UHOA has brought on board all accommodation facilities in Uganda, from the big international 5-star hotels to the small private B&B's and all speaking a unified voice.

■ PROUD

I am very proud of the UHOA that we are presenting to you in this magazine; a strong and unified sector. The tourism sector is now the biggest foreign exchange earner for Uganda. Contributing 9% to the country's GDP, tourism is one of the backbones of Uganda's

As we celebrate our 20-year anniversary in 2020, we are proud to note the following achievements:

- Increased membership to 520 member hotels
- Functional board of directors to manage the association
- Fully fledged secretariat led by the CEO and a vibrant team
- A strategic plan guiding the growth of the association
- Recognition from government with a seat on the Board of the Private Sector Foundation, Uganda Tourism Board, Hotel & Tourism Training School and the Presidential Investors' Roundtable.
- Partnership with development organisations like ILO, Swiss Contact and Tourcert
- Strategic partnerships with the United States Embassy in Uganda and the Netherlands Embassy.
- Partnerships with government ministries such as the Ministry of Tourism as well as the Ministry of Labour to address the skills development challenges in the hotel sector.

economy. The hospitality sector accounts for 90% of all employment and this has made UHOA a force to reckon with in Uganda.

It also gives me great pleasure to note that of the 3,800 hotels in Uganda, 95% are privately owned of which 86% are Ugandan owned. It gives me great honour to lead a sector that is driven by some of the most patriotic ladies and gentlemen in Uganda.

■ BIG-NAME BRANDS

During the course of the years, we have also seen the opening up of international big-name brand hotels in Uganda, most notably the Hilton Hotel, Onomo Hotels, Hilton Garden Inn, Marriot Hotels, Latitude Hotels, all of which are members of UHOA. This comes with a lot of benefits for our country in terms of tax collection as well as employment of the youth. Also, this is an endorsement of the international business community and a sign of investor confidence that Uganda is officially open for business.

As the voice of the hotel sector, we plan to continue our lobby and advocacy mandate to ensure a conducive business environment for the hotels in Uganda. In addition to lobbying for a more friendly tax regime, we also hope to lobby for a more inclusive environment for women to flourish at the workplace, especially in the managerial positions. We would like to see many more women taking their seats in the boardrooms and we have already set the pace by recruiting a female CEO working under a female led board.

■ SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

UHOA will also continue to be at forefront for lobbying for more skills development within the sector. We want to encourage more talent development within the hotel sector. We want to equip young people with the skills and confidence to pursue their careers as they develop their God-given talents to serve the sector.

We hope to work with both the government as well as development partners to achieve this target.

I take the opportunity to thank all our members who have been with us for the last 20 years for their commitment to UHOA in making it the association we are all proud of. I thank the government for its recognition, which has empowered our association to serve our members better. I thank the UHOA Board for offering strategic guidance as we work towards giving better service to our members and our country at large. Lastly, I also thank our team at the secretariat, led by our CEO, Jean Byamugisha for implementing the board's vision and running a secretariat that's of service to our members.

I now welcome you all to visit UHOA through the eyes of our publication. Welcome world!

Susan Muhwezi ■
Chairlady
Uganda Hotel Owners' Association

WHAT'S IN STORE FOR THE NEXT 20 YEARS?

I am honoured to welcome you to the latest edition of the official publication of the Uganda Hotel Owners' Association. We are proud to present to the world this magazine that's a reflection of who we are at UHOA.

Founded 20 years ago, UHOA is now the principal voice of the hotel sector in Uganda, as well as one of the biggest and most recognised private sector associations in the country.

The year 2020 is going to be an amazing year for UHOA as we celebrate our 20th birthday as well as many firsts; case in point, as we celebrate this landmark year, we also celebrate the fact that UHOA has a female team at the helm of the association. For the first time in our history, UHOA is led by its first ever female chairperson as well as its first-ever female CEO.

58% of the total workforce in the hotel sector are women, however fewer than 5% are in top management positions. UHOA is setting the right example to the rest of the industry by having an all-female leadership at the helm of the association to lead it into the next era of greatness, and the results have been clear for all to see – female leaders can perform as well as male leaders.

Tourism is Uganda's biggest foreign exchange earner and thus one of the key sectors spurring development in the country. Tourism is also one of the biggest employers in our economy. The hospitality industry employs 90% of the entire workforce in the tourism industry. Notable is that 77% of all hotel staff are between the ages of 18-30 years and thus there is a need to focus on youth development for the sustainable growth of the industry.

■ INDUSTRY TRENDS

UHOA is very cognisant of the dynamic nature of the industry. We have to keep abreast with the industry trends so as to offer technical guidance to the hotels in Uganda. As we enter a new era, we also note that the industry has changed and we must focus on the following areas to make sure that the hotel industry continues to grow:

- 1. Sustainability: With the growth of the hotel sector, we must ensure that we make sustainability the key cornerstone of the industry so as to preserve the industry for future generations. We will encourage more responsible trends in the industry, particularly recycling and use of energy efficient equipment.
- 2. OTA's and visibility: We will ensure that our membership in Uganda gains techniques for online marketing so as to be competitive with the rest of the world. Partnerships with OTAs like booking.com, Expedia and Hotels.com are already in the works.
- 3. Skills development: This is at the heart of UHOA's lobby and advocacy mandate as one of the most urgent issues that we must address in the next few years. We are in talks with international training schools as well as development partners to help us access some of the best training packages for our staff. We are also partnering with the Government of Uganda through the Ministry of Labour to pilot an apprenticeship programme – the first of its kind in our industry – to try and address the skills gap in the sector.
- 4. Women in tourism programme: UHOA intends to champion the empowerment of women in the hotel sector in Uganda. So far we have set the pace by having women leadership both at the board level and secretariat level. UHOA has also increased the number of women as well as young people on the board.
- 5. Branding and marketing: UHOA members are now competing for the international market. To get ready, we are currently undergoing grading and classification of the hotels, training our staff in international languages, particularly French, German and Mandarin. UHOA has also partnered with the international community to send our delegations to key signature events, for instance ITB, IBTM, WTM and the hotel show in Chicago every year. We hope that this exposure will help facilitate our members with the tools and networks to be able to prepare them to compete with the rest of the world in attracting tourists to their establishments.

We are truly honoured to see our association grow in numbers and strength every year. We are honoured to see a changing skyline of the hotel sector in Uganda. We have international brand name hotels opening up in the next couple of years. We are proud to have welcomed Latitude Hotel, Hilton Garden Inn and Skyz Marriot Hotel as part of the international chain hotels calling Uganda home.

We encourage many hotel investors to come and join us here in the Pearl of Africa. Our country offers a very conducive business environment to hotel investors and UHOA is ready to serve you.

AFRICA'S PEARL SHINING BRIGHTER THAN EVER

With stunning landscapes, an abundance of wildlife and friendly locals, a trip to Uganda is an opportunity not to be forgotten. This is evident with tourism numbers on the rise every year and more and more airlines serving the nation, including Uganda Airlines – the nation's flag carrier which resumed operations in August 2019. When visitors arrive in Uganda, they find they have never had more choice of where to stay and what to do.

The East-African landlocked country is home to some of the continent's best-loved attractions, including national parks such as Murchison Falls, Queen Elizabeth and Bwindi Impenetrable, as well as breath-taking waterfalls and the source of the White Nile. Uganda has a profusion of plains game as well as over 1,000 recorded species of birds. It's also home to Africa's largest population of habituated mountain gorillas.

However, Uganda isn't just well-known for its nature and wildlife – it also has a number of thriving cities. Kampala, Uganda's capital, boasts numerous historical buildings, and has a fantastic selection of hotels to accommodate its many visitors. Those hotels listed as five-star are the Kampala Serena, the Sheraton Kampala and the Munyonyo Commonwealth Resort – three of the best hotels in Africa.

■ LAKESIDE TOWNS

Jinja and Entebbe are both lakeside towns located either side of Kampala, offering their own unique charm and historical character to the country. Entebbe is home to the country's international airport, and with its peaceful atmosphere it is the ideal place to stop over for a relaxing couple of days, either before or after a flight. There is a wide range of hotels, from budget accommodation to luxury properties.

Jinja on the other hand has fewer hotels but still plenty of choice. The town is ideal for adrenaline junkies as popular activities include white-water rafting and bungee jumping. Hotels in the area are comparatively modest in size and generally aimed at the mid-market sector in this economically important area.

■ ACCOMMODATION

Those venturing beyond the triangle of Kampala, Entebbe and Jinja will have no trouble finding a variety of comfortable and fair-priced accommodation. There are new hotels, apartments and lodges opening every year, while others have been refurbished and improved.

National Parks such as Queen Elizabeth and Murchison Falls have a limited number of camps and lodges to accommodate visitors. At the other end of the scale, thanks to the popularity of gorilla tours in Bwindi Impenetrable National Park, in the south-west, there is no lack of camps and lodges in nearby places such as Kabale and Kisoro.

Whatever accommodation type you choose, from 5-star luxury to budget hostel, visitors will receive a warm welcome in Uganda.

■ NATIONAL PARKS

UGANDA BOASTS VARIETY OF STUNNING LOCATIONS

Uganda has many amazing national parks which are home to diverse species of wildlife and birdlife. It's no wonder that visitors flock from near and far to experience the places that helped earn Uganda the title 'Pearl of Africa'.

The country is home to ten national parks, each with its own unique draw, from mountain gorillas in Bwindi to the extinct volcano Mount Elgon. The rich diversity allows visitors to combine a variety of experiences in a single trip, from classic game drive to a close encounter with habituated gorilla groups.

■ BWINDI IMPENETRABLE

Size: 321 sq km

Location: Southwest Uganda

Bwindi is home to a population of over 300 mountain gorillas, including several habituated groups, which can be tracked. This biologically diverse region is home to a further 120 mammals including several primates as well as elephant and antelope. There are about 350 bird species including 23 Albertine Rift endemics. Wide choice of camps and lodges.

Aerolink Uganda offers both scheduled and charter flights into Uganda's national parks, including Bwindi, Queen Elizabeth and Murchison Falls.

■ KIBALE

Size: 766 sq km

Location: Western Uganda

Adjoining Queen Elizabeth National Park, this reserve contains about 70 mammal species including 13 species of primate and 375 bird species. There have been over 350 tree varieties recorded in the park. There is one lodge within the park plus camping opportunities.

■ KIDEPO VALLEY

Size: 1,442 sq km

Location: Northeast Uganda

Remote Kidepo Valley National Park is located in the northeast corner of Uganda and borders South Sudan. The destination is the country's most isolated national park and has a savannah landscape which is home to spotted hyena, leopard, lion, elephant, zebra and Rothschild's giraffe. There is one lodge in the park as well as a campsite.

■ LAKE MBURO

Size: 260 sq km

Location: Southern Uganda

Lake Mburo, one of the country's smallest parks, contains a broad cross-section of plains game including zebra, impala, eland, buffalo and hyena in addition to leopard and hippo.

The varied landscape includes savannah, lakes, swamps and hills, with opportunities for exciting game drives with plenty of animal and bird sightings. There are accommodation options in and around the park.

■ MGAHINGA GORILLA NATIONAL PARK

Size: 34 sq km

Location: Southwest Uganda

Mgahinga, the second of two mountain gorilla reserves in Uganda, is less well known than Bwindi Impenetrable National Park but offers breath-taking landscapes in a confined area. The park is home to the endangered golden monkey. There is no shortage of lodges and guest-houses within easy reach of the park.

■ MOUNT ELGON

Size: 1,279 sq km

Location: Eastern Uganda

Close to the Kenyan border, the Ugandan section of Mount Elgon National Park is close to the city of Mbale and is dominated by Mount Elgon, an extinct volcano.

Visitors to the park can hike to the volcano or spot some of the park's inhabitants on a game drive, including elephant, buffalo and the near-threatened lammergeier (bearded vulture). Accommodation is available at Sipi Falls and Kapchorwa, in addition to a fair choice in Mbale.

■ MURCHISON FALLS

Size: 3,480 sq km

Location: Northwest Uganda

Murchison Falls is Uganda's oldest and largest conservation area. Located on the shore of Lake Albert, the name originates from a waterfall (also known as Kabalega Falls) on the White Nile. The national park is rich in wildlife, including crocodile, hippo, elephant and over 400 bird species. Camps and lodges are available.

■ QUEEN ELIZABETH

Size: 1,978 sq km

Location: Southwest Uganda

Queen Elizabeth National Park is one of Uganda's most popular parks, with big game along with 10 primate species and over 600 bird types. The Ishasha sector of the park is famous for its tree-climbing lions. Accommodation choices include camps and lodges.

■ RWENZORI MOUNTAINS

Size: 998 sq km

Location: Western Uganda

This national park is a Unesco World Heritage Site and offers a combination of glaciers, waterfalls and lakes. The park is host to 70 mammal species, including hyrax, duiker and black-and-white colobus monkey, and over 200 bird species. Camps are available at Ruboni, Nyakalengija and Kilembe, plus accommodation in nearby Kasese.

■ SEMULIKI

Size: 220 sq km

Location: Western Uganda

Semuliki is one of Uganda's newest national parks, established in 1993. The park is a more of a Central African one than an East African park, making it unique to Uganda. It is primarily made up of tropical lowland forest and home to countless bird species. A lodge, guesthouses and camps can be found in the park, as well as accommodation in nearby Fort Portal. Accommodation options in and around the park.

MICE BUSINESS IS NUMBER ONE TARGET

The MICE sector (meetings, incentives, conferences and exhibitions) is a vital and growing part of the global travel and tourism industry. For many destinations, MICE is now more valuable in pure monetary terms than more mainstream types of tourism.

MICE visitor-spend per day is usually significantly higher than regular leisure tourism. These visitors can also obligingly fill hotel rooms at top-dollar rack rates in otherwise low or shoulder seasons. And it's good to know that Uganda is particularly well placed to secure its own slice of this lucrative business and, in many cases, is already doing so.

More can be done, however, and the Uganda Hotel Owners' Association (UHOA) and the Uganda Tourism Board (UTB) are both playing their part in encouraging more MICE visitors to the Pearl of Africa – as, over time, will the recently relaunched national carrier, Uganda Airlines.

■ MEETINGS & EXHIBITIONS

As it is, Uganda regularly hosts over 1,000 meetings and exhibitions a year. It's a remarkable figure, but of these only a handful were categorised as 'high level' by the International Congress & Convention Association (ICCA).

So, more needs to be done to ensure that Uganda competes head-on with the really big African players in this important and still-developing sector. The continental leader is South Africa, which by contrast hosts well over 100 of these 'high level' meetings each year.

■ LOCATIONS

Naturally enough, Kampala, with its impressively high hotel bed capacity, is easily Uganda's most popular location for meetings. Jinja is number two and much favoured for those out-of-town retreats that are booked mostly by locally based organisations such as international charities and NGOs. Entebbe is a long way back in third place, but is poised to gain from the international airport's growing number of airlines and aircraft serving the gateway and the construction of a new convention centre.

Unfortunately, as increasingly found elsewhere in the region, Kampala still lacks a purpose-built, stand-alone, internationally recognised convention centre that is not linked directly to a hotel or a resort

However, the government does have plans for an Entebbe Hotel and Convention Centre, to be located close to the international airport, and the designs for this proposed project were unveiled in 2018. Once built, this is likely to be designated the nation's premier meetings venue and to be the preferred choice for state-backed gatherings.

■ SPEKE PROPERTIES

In any case, for the time being Kampala is blessed with some truly outstanding facilities that are, in fact, linked to a hotel complex – most notably the jointly owned Speke Resort Munyonyo and the Munyonyo Commonwealth Resort.

The twin-property resort has been hosting conferences since 2001 and currently has three ballrooms, 19 indoor and six outdoor conference venues, making this particularly property the premier conferencing venue in Uganda. Its crowning moment came when it hosted the prestigious 2007 Commonwealth Government Heads of Government Meeting (CHOGM).

But there are plenty of other top-quality hotel and resort venues to choose from in and around Kampala capable of hosting global-scale events. They include the Kampala Serena Hotel, whose Victoria and Garden auditoria can accommodate up to 1,500 and 1,000 guests respectively, and its sister property, the Lake Victoria Serena Golf Resort & Spa, which is similarly well equipped. The Sheraton Kampala Hotel, too, with its 1,027 square metres of conference space and meeting rooms, is an equally compelling venue.

■ HOTELS

Throughout Kampala (but also in Jinja and Entebbe) the vast majority of hotels have conference, retreat and meeting facilities for more locally themed events – in fact, it's a key revenue source for most properties.

So, whatever the size or type of meeting, Uganda has the venue to meet just about every requirement or type of event, all located in one of Africa's most delightful settings.

■ UGANDA'S CULTURE

AN INTRIGUING RANGE OF CULTURAL DIVERSITY

Hector Conesa / Shutterstock.com

Originally comprising four distinct kingdoms, landscapes and peoples, Uganda is a highly varied country with a multifaceted culture, age-old traditions and distinct languages and dialects.

So today's Uganda may look uniform to the first-time visitor, but it is a patchwork of cultural influences dating back before the nation's period as a British colony and its inclusion in the original post-colonial East African Federation.

The nation is dominated by its main urban and industrial centres of Kampala and Entebbe, but traditional Uganda can still be found in more rural areas where modernity has yet to penetrate too deeply.

Uganda is home to some 54 officially recognised tribes. The largest, the Baganda, consists of almost 5.6 million people – around 16.5 per cent of the national population – and is one of many ethnic groups throughout Africa who speak a Bantu-related language. The smallest tribe is the Mening, comprise fewer than 3,000.

Because of this tribal variety, there is a wide range of languages spoken in Uganda – 56 in total – and in four main groups (Bantu, central Sudanic, Nilotic and Kuliak), of which the most common is Luganda and as used by the Baganda. The country's official languages are English and Swahili. English is taught in schools and is the language of business, while Swahili is the lingua franca for much of eastern and south-eastern Africa and is still used in the military and the police.

■ KINGDOMS

Uganda was divided into four kingdoms – Buganda, Toro, Busoga and Bunyoro-Kitara – with customs dating back many centuries. Each kingdom had its own cultural practices and its own monarch. Today, these monarchs are still revered and exert political and cultural influence. In 2008 Rwenzururu became the nation's fifth kingdom.

In addition to its kingdoms, Uganda is divided into four administrative provinces – Central, Western, Eastern and Northern – which in turn comprise 111 districts. While the populations of these provinces are similar, the divisions are not based on land area, so the provinces vary considerably in size.

UHOA 20 YEARS ON

The Uganda Hotel Owners' Association (UHOA) is 20 years old in 2020. The Association has grown from modest beginnings in 2000 when local hotelier Dr B.M. Kibirige gathered together a handful of fellow hospitality sector leaders to discuss plans for the formation of a new hotel association to a situation today where UHOA has over 500 active members. What's more, UHOA is now Uganda's leading private sector tourism organisation with representation on many national committees and invites to participate in key industry steering groups.

During those early days, the tourism sector had still to fully recover from Uganda's previous political and economic difficulties that had negatively impacted the country during the 1970s and 80s. It was also before the hosting of the 2007 Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting which proved the catalyst for a hotel building boom that lasted for more than a decade and continues, albeit at a slightly slower pace, to this day.

As UHOA members, these new hotels have played a key role in making tourism Uganda's biggest foreign exchange earner as well as providing secure jobs and welcome job opportunity for many local people.

■ RESPECTED

The Association, too, has grown to become an organisation highly respected by Government, international tourism organisations and as a body providing technical, training, investment, legal and marketing assistance to its membership.

Such as been the progress and development of UHOA over the last 20 years that it is now very much the model for other nations and where the hotel sector is looking to play a bigger part in encouraging inbound tourism.

FLY THE CRANE TO THE PEARL OF AFRICA

The year 2019 has seen Uganda make great strides in the fields of transportation and tourism. It's this very year that the 'Pearl of Africa' launched its flagship national passenger and cargo carrier, Uganda Airlines. The airline received its first two aircraft on 23 April 2019 and started operating commercial flights on 28 August 2019.

But the new airline doesn't just stand to make trips across borders; it exists to represent the growing interconnectivity between nations. More than that, the airline exists to showcase the beauty that lies in the people, places and culture of its home, Uganda, and the destinations that it flies to.

Uganda Airlines is currently running a marketing campaign, 'let's go', which urges everyone to fly the crane to the destinations of Mombasa, Mogadishu, Bujumbura, Nairobi, Dar es Salaam, Juba and Kilimanjaro. All these are places with celebrated landmarks, cultures and traditions; from white sand beaches in Mombasa and Dar es Salaam, to the thriving business hub of Juba. Uganda Airlines wants to be the carrier that takes visitors to experience and discover the best of these destinations.

Even more than experiencing the beauty that lies in other destinations, Uganda Airlines will fly travellers to visit and experience the people, places and culture that gave Uganda the title, "The Pearl of Africa."

■ PEOPLE

Uganda has, on multiple occasions, been named one of the world's friendliest countries. The people of Uganda are known to be very vibrant, sociable, entrepreneurial, warm and welcoming. It's the simple things, like a cup of tea with a plate of roasted nuts offered when you visit a home or being called 'boss' or 'manager' while haggling over at the market, that give Uganda a great sense of hospitality.

■ PLACES

Even at just 236,040 sq km, Uganda is blessed with different types of vegetation, from vast desert lands to snowcapped mountains to lush forests. With over 10 beautiful game parks being home to wildlife like the majestic elephant to the elusive gorilla, waterfalls, the source of the Nile and a large variety of birds, the Pearl of Africa has gained attention as a top tourist destination.

■ CULTURE

What makes Uganda unique is its large variety of local cultures, with up to 54 tribes. Each culture bears a novelty to it; in language, dance, dress and food, but all cultures are celebrated with great vigor.

AeroLink Uganda Ltd is a premium domestic airline offering both scheduled and charter flights into Uganda's national parks.

From its base at Entebbe International Airport, it operates daily flights using Cessna 208 Grand Caravans into Bwindi Impenetrable Forest (Kihikihi and Kisoro airstrips), Queen Elizabeth National Park (Kasese and Mweya airstrips), Murchison Falls (Bugungu, Pakuba and Chobe airstrips), Semuliki National Park (Semliki airstrip) and Kidepo Valley National Park (Apoka airstrip). The Caravans offer both comfort and excitement as passengers are able to 'fly with the pilots' thanks to the clear-glass cockpit.

Flight and ground safety are an integral part of the AeroLink operation. The company requires all employees to participate in and adhere to the flight safety programmes. Pilots undergo simulator training in conjunction with flight safety in Toronto, Canada.

Aircraft line maintenance is carried out in Uganda while key maintenance tasks are performed by AirKenya

CAPITAL BOASTS A VARIETY OF TOP HOTELS

Uganda's capital now boasts a better-than-ever choice of accommodation. The huge increase in Kampala's hotel sector dates back to the 2008 Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting, which called for the need of top hotels to accommodate heads of state and their delegations. Additionally, the fast-growing Ugandan economy has, of course, been a further factor.

As a direct result, Kampala has become a key conference and meetings destination, competing for top continent-wide events. Before this, visitors to the capital had a limited choice of accommodation and space was always at a premium. Almost overnight, this problem was eliminated – so much so that for a period after that Kampala had an overcapacity. This did not stop new hotels being built, however, while others continued to be upgraded or refurbished.

PROPERTIES

Visitors will find a good selection of quality properties in Kampala, with choices to suit different budgets and more options available in various parts of the city. Fierce competition among hotels has also generated higher levels of service and greater attention to detail. This is welcome news for visitors, who can depend on UHOA-rated properties to offer peace of mind.

ITALIAN-INSPIRED PROPERTY LOCATED ALONG AFRICA'S LARGEST LAKE

Styled to replicate a pastel-shaded Italian hillside village, The Lake Victoria Serena Golf Resort & Spa stands out among hotels in Uganda. The resort is situated amid terraced rose gardens above its own marina, which has been sculpted from the waters of Lake Victoria. The marina is encircled by the immaculate greens of the resort's own PGA-affiliated championship golf course. Spanned by rustic bridges and enhanced by gentle bays where a wide array of water birds gather, the course is the ultimate fusion of natural beauty and professional challenge.

The hotel has been styled to echo an Italian palace with its mosaics, rustically arched pool terrace and shaded colonnades. Set within the grounds, amid water cascades and a fountain is a Roman coliseum, which offers the ultimate backdrop for weddings and events. Widely spaced amongst the shaded pathways of the gardens are clusters of pastel-painted villas, which all enjoy panoramic views across the marina to the hazy expanses of the lake.

ROOMS

Guests can choose from 124 rooms to stay at when visiting Lake Victoria, comprising 114 standard rooms, 8 executive suites and 2 presidential suites – all with private verandahs and lake views. Each room features either queen-sized or twin beds, a dressing table, work station, seating area, balcony and lavish marble bathroom. For the ultimate luxury hotel stay in Uganda, the two presidential suites are located on the penthouse level of the main citadel.

The Maisha Mind Body and Spirit Spa offers relaxation and wellness on the shores of Lake Victoria. Situated adjacent to the pool deck, the spa contrasts the gleaming state-of-the-art technology of its gymnasium and cardio studio with the terracotta floors and rustic arches of the spa.

The Lake Victoria Serena Golf Resort & Spa offers a standout selection of restaurants. The Citadel all-day brasserie is the perfect choice for a breakfast, lunch or dinner near Kampala. The brasserie's à la carte evening menu features both an international selection and the chef's own array of typically Mediterranean-style cuisine. A wide selection of snacks can be enjoyed, either on the extensive Lake View Pool Terrace, in the Courtyard Lounge or on the Piano Bar Terrace. The South East Fusion Restaurant presents an elegant blend of Chinese Imperial style and Balinese simplicity. This fine-dining restaurant draws its inspiration from the exotic cuisine of the Far East.

UGANDA'S GATEWAY OFFERS RELAXED ALTERNATIVE TO BUSTLING KAMPALA

As the home of Uganda's international airport, Entebbe has a big role to play as the gateway to the nation.

Before independence in 1962, Entebbe was the seat of government, and its many fine buildings reflect the town's colonial past and its role as the nation's administrative and commercial centre. It's also the reason why the National Botanical Gardens and State House – the president's official residence – are located here.

There are a wide range of hotels in a city that has its own unique style and atmosphere. Entebbe probably has more hotel rooms per head of population than almost any other inland town in Africa – 105 hotels to choose from in a town with a population of only about 79,000.

Due to Entebbe's close proximity to the airport, it is a highly popular stopover destination for those leaving or arriving in Uganda. The city has a lakeside charm of its own making it the ideal spot for a relaxing weekend away for those who spend more of their time in Kampala, just 37 km up the road.

Like Kampala, the number of hotels in Entebbe seems to grow each year. In the last year or so, the town has gained the K Hotels Entebbe while the Lake Victoria, Pulickal Airport Hotel and the Best Western Premier Garden Hotel Entebbe have been fully refurbished.

ADVENTURE CAPITAL OF THE NATION

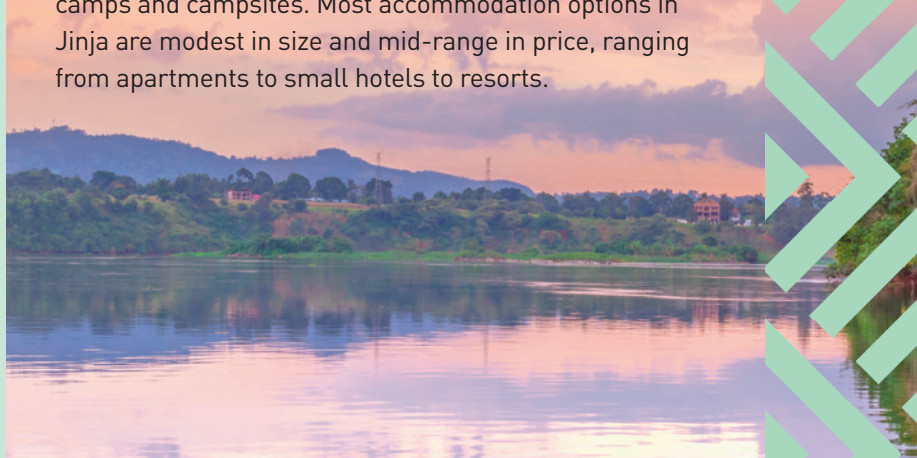

Located on the shore of Lake Victoria, just 85 km from Kampala, Jinja sits at the source of the White Nile.

Jinja is popular among tourists and frequently referred to as the adventure capital of Uganda, thanks to the adrenaline-fuelled activities found here. Other popular sporting attractions and activities include a nine-hole golf course (that opened in 1912) as well as bird watching. Jinja is a town that has had its ups and downs over recent times. There are 13 UHOA-member hotels in Jinja, with a further selection of bed-and-breakfast establishments, inns, camps and campsites. Most accommodation options in Jinja are modest in size and mid-range in price, ranging from apartments to small hotels to resorts.
